Sixth Form Weekly Update

Monday, 27 June 2022

(Week A)

Year
12

It was lovely to welcome you all back in our assembly following your two week mock examination period. Again, I applaud the character, resilience, and perseverance shown by all of you throughout this time.

As you start to receive your papers and grades, I hope you act upon this feedback to guide your independent study habits as we move towards the start of Year 13.

In the assembly I spoke to you all regarding the use of the Unifrog platform and further focus on your Post-18 destinations. You are now working towards individual goals in your next steps. On Tuesday I look forward to the UCAS convention trip to the University of Bedfordshire. As I addressed in assembly, following Mr Simpson's email, I would like to remind all students to take the short amount of time to complete pages 1 to 3 of the relevant UCAS trip booklet. This will ensure that you all have sufficient focus and direction to maximise your time and information received on this trip.

If any of you need any support, guidance, or general help please contact myself or a member of the brilliant Sixth Form team and we will do everything that we can to support you.

You can contact me via Thomas.Walker@astrea-longsands.org
